

Major Warehouse Retailer Selects Dogness Product Following Global Buyer Conference

PLANO, Texas, Dec. 1, 2022 /PRNewswire/ -- Dogness (International) Corporation ("Dogness" or the "Company") (NASDAQ: DOGZ), a developer and manufacturer of a comprehensive line of Dogness-branded, OEM and private label pet products, today announced a major retailer selected one of its specially tailored product sets. Dogness expects to finalize product specifications and initial order quantities over the coming weeks.

The retailer expanded the breadth of the Dogness product line it carries to include certain traditional pet products earlier this year, following a large-scale rollout in 2021 of Dogness smart pet products in their stores.

Silong Chen, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Dogness, commented, "This is a major win for us with material unit order volumes expected. We have built a strong relationship with this customer, having started out small and gradually increasing stores we had a presence in. We were excited to be invited to the 2023 global product review and thought a great deal about the products we would showcase. The product ultimately selected demonstrates our excellent research and design capabilities, and high-quality manufacturing. We have demonstrated our reliability to deliver the larger quantities this customer requires. We aim to enter as many North American locations as possible in the initial rollout phase and hope to expand to the customer's global locations in the future."

Dogness has built an integrated sales platform across all channels, with major customers including Petco, PetSmart, Costco Wholesale Corporation, Xiuhu, Sam's Club, Walmart, Target, QVC®, Pet Value, Pets at Home, PETZL, Petmate, Trendspark, Anyi Trading, IKEA, SimplyShe, and online shopping platforms, such as Amazon, Chewy.com, Boqii Holding Limited, Target.com, HomeDepot.com, Loews.com, Wayfair.com, JD, Tmall and Taobao, as well as live streaming sales platforms hosted by influencers.
